

DEATH BATTLE OF FLYERS TOLD

*Ellsworth Pictures Peril of Shifting IceTwo of Amundsen Party Are Nearly DrownedShort Rations Precluded Hope of WalkingBY LINCOLN ELLSWORTH
(BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
(Copyright, 1925, by North American Newspaper Alliance)KINGS BAY (Spitsbergen) June 19.—To Lincoln Ellsworth, the sole American member of the Amundsen-Ellsworth Polar flight party, belongs credit for a heroic exploit which saved the lives of two of his companions, said Amundsen today.

Mr. Ellsworth, in the dispatch which he sent today to The Times and its associated newspapers, modestly says of this incident:

"Dietrichson and Omdahl all but lost their lives one day when they fell suddenly through a hole in the ice, up to their necks and were almost dragged under by some whirling current underneath."

Dietrichson and Omdahl were the American's companions on the airplane N-24.

Amundsen says that Ellsworth's heroism in saving their lives was the highest individual achievement of the entire expedition.

The two men were making their way across the ice toward the Amundsen plane when they fell together into a crevass which suddenly opened right under their feet. Amundsen and Riser, Larsen rushed to aid them, but found themselves on the wrong side of a widening lane in the ice. They tried to launch their canvas boat, but were prevented by the masses of drift ice. Meanwhile Ellsworth rushed to the other side of the lane and risked his own life, hanging precariously to the rim of the ice, himself half submerged by the current while he pulled up first one and then the other of his exhausted comrades.

We should stick with our one remaining plane or abandon it and start immediately for Cape Columbius on foot with our insufficient food and equipment.

WAITED FOR FIFTEENTH

We finally agreed to wait until the fifteenth before giving up the plane. One night we were at Amundsen said that he felt "in his bones" that the fifteenth would be our lucky day. It was.

Personally, I do not believe we could have reached Cape Columbius on foot with our insufficient food and equipment.

We probably could not have accomplished more than 100 miles over the terrible ice. From the first it was strong for sticking by the plane. One night we were at Amundsen said that he felt "in his bones" that the fifteenth would be our lucky day. It was.

Amundsen had picked up a piece of wood which he had picked for the snow. During our entire stay we saw almost no sign of animal life. One day we caught a glimpse of a seal, another day three geese, which were the only signs of life near us, but we were unable to kill them.

We lived in the planes, which were cold, damp and uncomfortable. The inside metal was freezing. We removed our light warmth from time to time at our thermic burners. The temperature was 10 below zero on our compass.

Dietrichson and Omdahl all but lost their lives one day when they fell through a hole in the ice up to their necks and were almost dragged under by some whirling current underneath.

We transferred all but one of our fuses from the N-24 to the N-15, and got back to Spitsbergen with hardly a drop to spare. Every extra ounce of equipment and baggage, even our fuses, was cut away to the bone.

The take-off was difficult and precarious. I thought we should never get into the air. The ice caught and caught the sleds before it finally rose at the edge of our cleared starting space.

WEAKENED BY LABOR

Preparing the starting place was a hard labor task. We worked with the endless chopping away of ice. Our diminished rations was not enough to keep up our strength in the face of such terrific labor. But we did not dare leave the plane because we had to eat on the journey ahead to Cape Columbia if our airplane failed us.

How many times did we try at getting off the ice into the air? I have tried to remember. I think it was about ten times. I had almost given up hope.

During the first week we studied constantly the problem whether

DIPLOMAS GIVEN NINE AT AVALON

Class First to Graduate from New School; Zane Grey Scholarship Awarded

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH

AVALON (Catalina Island) June 19.—Diplomas were awarded to nine graduates of the Avalon High School last night at the Greek Amphitheater by Principal M. B. Dunkle in behalf of the Long Beach Board of Education under whose jurisdiction the island school is conducted. The 1925 class, the first to graduate from the new high school, and the majority of its seniors completed their entire schooling on the island.

Following the presentation of diplomas, the award of the Zane Grey four-year scholarship at the California Institute of Technology to John Shields was announced.

Malcolm Renfro, president of the graduating class shared scholarship honors with Shields, according to the school. Renfro, who has been non-distinguished himself earlier in the year when he upheld the honors of the Avalon High School.

Los Angeles Times' semifinals in the competition for the National Oratorical Contest.

Avalon High School graduates to receive their diplomas last night were Elizabeth Berning, John Henry Blanche Rundt, Malcolm Renfro, John Shields, Shirley Stine and Edward Van Alestyn.

THROGS CHEER FOR AMUNDSEN

Hobby at that time, for night and day are all the same at this season of the year. There was nothing but the glow of the moon to indicate the joyous mission, and it actually got a somewhat ill-natured welcome. Capt. Horne of the Hobby watched the dingy ship come up the harbor straight to his own uninvited audience. He came too close to his boat. He waved it away with a fine display of fluent Norwegian language and some reference to the bad seamanship of his skipper.

None of us paid the slightest attention to the newcomer, nor did any human whom we had picked up a few days ago at Dane's Island, loitering about, spotted the fur-clad forms of the flyers on the deck of the Sjøsjo. They called to us: "What are those strangers about here?"

In an instant the name "Amundsen" went catapulting through our boat, bringing every man aboard to the nearest porthole in the twinkling of an eye. Within seconds the boat had passed to every corner of the Hobby and "helmed" and was being passed along the shore.

Mrs. Ruth E. Ray

Mobilization of a Small But Efficient Army of Workers will be completed today for the drive on Monday to sell $50,000 worth of season ticket books for the Hollywood Bowl summer concerts. More than 300 prominent men and women will devote their time during the week to the sale of 5000 of these books, the number necessary to insure financial success to the undertaking. Each book contains forty tickets, which would bring total attendance in the new season to approximately 350,000 persons. The concerts open July 7 with Fritz Reiner, conductor of the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra, leading the 100 picked musicians. Fifteen different world famous conductors and soloists will appear during the season. Mme. Emma Loeffler de Zaruba, former prima donna, is commander-in-chief of the army, and her first aide is "General" Mrs. Leland A. Irish. The ladies pictured above and Mrs. Irish, are captains and lieutenants.

A "Find" of the Blonde Type is 22-year-old Salle (above) of Los Angeles, according to Montgomery Flagg. Miss LaSalle, who turned 22 last month, was discovered by Flagg a year ago to compete in a beauty pageant. She has since been modeling and working in Hollywood.

The Summer Season's First Brush Fire broke out in Griffith Park yesterday afternoon. Before a force of men from the fire department, water department and other agencies could bring it under control the flames had swept about 300 acres of land. With warm weather and low humidity coming on, warnings about brush and grass fires were issued again yesterday.

A Slight Discrepancy in the estimates of Mrs. Mildred Hogan (above with daughter) and her estranged husband, James P. Hogan, as to the latter's income confronted Judge Summerfield in alimony court yesterday. She estimated $1000 monthly; he estimated nothing. She got $200 temporary monthly alimony. (Times photo.)

Wednesday Night is the Big Night for Two Hundred Seniors, members of the graduating class at Franklin High School, who will be handed diplomas at graduation exercises to be held in Trinity Auditorium. Will C. Wood, Superintendent of Public Instruction, will be the principal speaker on the program, and Arthur Gould, assistant superintendent, will make the presentation of diplomas. Ninety of the class of 200 are boys. (Photo by Brown Photo Service, Huntington Park.)

Monie and Poole were reported uninjured while McGuire escaped with a bad shaking. Takeawaye is said to be injured that she will be destroyed.

STRATFORD PLAYS IN TENNIS FINALS TODAY

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE
BALTIMORE, June 19.—Gerald Stratford of the University of California will be one of the participants in the finals of the Maryland State tennis tournament here tomorrow. Stratford today defeated H. E. Bowman, New Jersey state champion, in the semi-final. His score was 6-2, 1-6, 6-3. Stratford eliminated Allen Behr, New York, in the semifinals today, 6-4, 6-3.

SHEA WHIPS SMITH IN DECISIVE MANNER

BY EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH
EAST CHICAGO (Ind.) June 19.—Eddie Shea, the Chicago Italian, matched to meet Phil Rosenberg for the world's bantamweight title at New York, June 21, decisively defeated Harold Smith of Chicago, in the main event of the boxing show staged here tonight.

The only reason Kearns wants to stage the fight here is because he believes he has an ace in the hole on the referee's position.

The match logically belongs in New York, where it will draw $200,000. Out here the top would not be more than $75,000.

"Doyle has done no negotiating with me except to sound me out in私人ly. I have had no definite offer for Smith yet. All Vernon matchmaker's business has been carried on with Kearns and I happen to know that the latter would agree to a Walker-Shade fight if I asked him," McGrath referred. "I have nothing against McGrath, but I will not let Kearns choose a referee on me."

"I am leaving for the East this morning, but in the meantime I want to get the fight over with.

A CHUCKLE for EVERYBODY

LOCAL LAUGHS

Each week The Times produces a film entitled "Local Laughs," consisting of fifteen short scenes submitted by local people. Admissions are paid $1.00, $2.00, and twelve of $1.00 each. A list of theaters showing the film, together with rules for submitting jokes, are given daily in a coupon in The Times. Prize-winners receive a free trip to the beach. Contributors of original jokes receiving honorable mention will be given a place of honor on The Times comic page each week day, and each of these contributors will receive a souvenir of acknowledgement.

completes a municipal terminal at Los Angeles Harbor, and thus combines ownership and control of both ship and port facilities. It will be directed by one port manager, the unanimous endeavor of the Los Angeles Board of Harbor Commissioners. This is believed to be the most important factor in port development according to C. J. Colden, president of the Harbor Commission. Mr. Colden said, "In planning of such construction will enable the ships to enter and depart from the harbor without the consumption of time. The ship should receive the consideration. Ports are built along railroads and railway terminals treat terminals should consider the convenience of the ship as well as the convenience of the port. The railroads and highways will be planned to make the port facilities for loading and unloading ship cargo. The convenience of the port in such a way as to convenience or handicaps the ship movement, in contributing to the convenience of commerce."

IFICATION DESIRABLE

It is generally conceded that creation of railroad terminals at the port is desirable. Uniformity of tracks will not only duplicate the cost, but also eliminates the expense of cost. It eliminates delays and simplifies operations. When one railway terminal is provided, the line haul ends its responsibility by delivering those in the common transfer.

important factor in the universal plan, in which all interests are on equal basis, is that it facilitates expansion. The reason that the large amount of new materials does not enjoy the best port advantage. Consequently a unified system permits delivery in the direction of greatest resistance and thus contributes to the growth and expansion of the port.

policy that is growing in popularity is public ownership of the railroads along with unification of the railroads. The foundation of this policy is based on the fact that the railroads are owned by the public and operated by the public at public expense. Since the money is expended to maintain the use and movement of the railroads, it is becoming more and more recognized that this facility may be augmented by flexible terminals.

IBILITY OF SERVICE

the advantages of public ownership of railroads, "the mobility of service, the public owns and controls the railroads, the freight moves along the railroads, the railroads may reach the port and the cars of any kind may be placed at the side of the railroads in any section of the city.

AWARDED GODDESS OF LIBERTY ROLE

JUDGE FLEMING NAME CLEARED

Matters in Brodsky Motion Ruled Coincidences

Stephens Condems Filing of Affidavits

New Trial, However, is Granted on Evidence

The name of Superior Court Judge Fleming recently made the object of sensational affidavits filed by Benjamin Brodsky, Venice business man, in a motion for a new trial in a suit brought by the Abbott Kinney Company against Brodsky, was cleared yesterday in a decision handed down by Judge Stephens.

Judge Stephens, before whom the motion was referred for hearing, held the affidavit concerning Judge Fleming held no place whatever in support of Brodsky's motion. The court however granted Brodsky a new trial on the ground that the evidence adduced at the trial before Judge Fleming was insufficient to justify the court's decision.

The case was a lawsuit over Venice property and the Abbott Kinney Company was awarded a judgment of $25,000 against Brodsky, who also was found by Judge Fleming to have violated the terms of a trial agreement which he was accused of having been induced by the Abbott Kinney Company for the purchase of property in the beach city.

MEETINGS ARE CITED

In his affidavit asking a new trial, Brodsky recited that two days before Judge Fleming handed down his written judgment, C. R. Greely, business associate of Judge Fleming, approached Brodsky and sought to interest him in a Nevada mining venture. Houser was said to have produced a letter signed by Judge Fleming advising the judge to consider the nature of good money-making possibilities should the recipient of the letter desire to interest himself in the project.

Brodsky also stated in his affidavit during the trial of the suit before Judge Fleming that the latter's wife entered the courtroom and sat down next to the wife of one of the plaintiffs in the room and carried on a lengthy conversation with her.

Judge Stephens asserted that his affidavit was merely coincidences. He explained that the letter he gave Houser was a circular letter intended for use in introducing the judge's personal acquaintances whom the judge thought might be interested in the mining venture. Judge Stephens' interview with Brodsky will occur days after the incident occurred.

NEW TRIAL GRANTED

The judge also set forth that his wife and the woman with whom she conversed are old friends, and their meeting in his courtroom was merely coincidental. His wife knew nothing of the case on trial, he said, and did not discuss it with him.

In granting Brodsky a new trial, Judge Stephens stated in part:

"The affidavits respecting the claim of the trial judge's wife as a witness of one of the plaintiffs in the action should never have been filed."

The affidavit respecting the trial judge himself related to facts which could not be denied, his decision as he very fully outlined his decision immediately upon the conclusion of the case. Therefore they have no place whatever in this motion for a new trial, and have no relation to the determination of the case."

"I am convinced that the trial judge, in attempting to do justice between the parties, erred in permitting accounts to affect the final figure in the amount which was essentially political in their nature and against public policy and the purity of election laws."

EXCLUSIVE REPORT ON FIRE THREATENS ZOO

of Season Sweeps 300 Acres in Griffith Park; 400 Help Subdue Flames

The summer season, started by a carelessly burned field by a mill wind, swept 300 acres in Griffith

Hurried calls were put into the fire, power and street departments for help. Engine Company No. 56 to command of Lieut. O. E. Driggs and Firemen Wm. Winfield, D. E. Goss of Denver, Colorado, and Constant Vanderveen, city engineer, joined the local firemen to battle the flames. They were more than four hours before the fire was under control. The fire, which had spread over the entire area, was finally put out.

Three persons suffered bone fractures and a six-months-old baby hurled from an automobile to the pavement was unhurt yesterday afternoon when automobiles driven by Mrs. George, Jr., suffered a fracture of the left shoulder and Spencer suffered a fracture of the left forearm. The older Woods was uninjured.

The injured were treated in Huntington Park Hospital.

FAILURE TO PROVIDE CARS, IMPROPER HANDLING, ARE ASSERTED

Asserting heavy melon crop losses in 1923 because of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company failed to provide him with enough refrigerated cars and because of improper handling of some melons shipped,

Ben H. Arkelian, an Imperial Valley and San Joaquin Valley melon grower, yesterday filed suit in the United States District Court against the railroad company for $16,185.44.

Arkelian avers that in June, 1923, he made repeated requests for cars to be provided at Heber, Imperial Valley, but that they were not provided, although the company had agreed to do so.

He asserts losses also because of improper handling of shipments to Duluth, Philadelphia,

VETERAN OF STAGE WED ON THE SLY

Billy Burress Was Married Secretly on 9th Inst.; While Playing in Los Angeles

A romance that started years ago culminated in the marriage of Billy Burress, veteran character actor of the stage, and Mrs. Isabella Miller, of 880 McKinley avenue, Oakland, which took place the 9th inst., but was kept secret until yesterday by the bride and bridegroom.

There will be no honeymoon journey for the present, as Burress is playing a leading role in "Madame Blue Top," the Madison Mater. Burress has trod the boards for more than thirty years, having tramped the country and appeared with all the leading footlight stars. He now resides in temporary apartments at the Biltmore.

On the stage every night Burress plays the role of a retired circus clown who marries a flapper girl when it comes to choosing a helping hand for rest life. She chose a woman only a few years younger than himself.

The wedding took place in the First English Lutheran Church, where the bridegroom was dressed in a tuxedo and the bride in a white gown.

FIGHT SEEN TO RETURN "WOLF"

Worthington is Discovered in Interior of Mexico

International Negotiations on Extradition Imminent

Swindler's Status Now That of Actual Fugitive

International negotiations, it was admitted by Federal authorities here yesterday, will be necessary before John W. Worthington, convicted swindler, who, Department of Justice agents announced has been located in Mexico, can be brought back to this country to face justice.

Worthington, supposed to have been dying, disappeared from the Glendale sanatorium more than a week ago. He was facing a three-year sentence for bucket-shop operations in Chicago but had gained a reprieve because of the nature of his supposedly fatal illness.

Since he left Los Angeles, the confidence man, carrying a suitcase in which he believed to be money he had embezzled worth $100,000, fled to San Diego, thence to Tia Juana and farther south.

Worthington was located at a hot spring resort about twenty miles from Tia Juana where he arrived last Thursday, according to information received here. He was in company of a young man, believed to have been the chauffeur who took him from this city. It was said the young man had come to a social gathering for Worthington and was tipped off to the arrival of the Department of Justice agents, headed by Ralph H. Colvin, and started with Worthington to flee farther south when the party ran into a blind-end road and was cornered.

Worthington was said to have refused to talk with Colvin and a representative of the other members of the pursuing party.

Colvin has gone to Mexicali to try to get aid in returning Worthington.

PECULIAR SITUATION

When the convicted swindler left the sanatorium a week ago last Wednesday, a peculiar situation faced the Federal authorities here. Worthington was under bond from the Chicago Federal district court and the local authorities had no power to arrest him even if they had been able to locate him before he crossed the border. The Chicago authorities evidently were under the impression that Worthington was dying and made no request that a special guard be placed over him at the sanatorium.

However, since his disappearance the court mandate issued from Chicago has been giving Worthington a stay of execution has been rescinded, the Federal authorities here have been informed, and Worthington's status is now that of a fugitive from justice.

However, although they have the fugitive located in Mexico, international negotiations, probably extradition proceedings, will be necessary before he can be returned back.

Agent Wheeler said yesterday that he had notified the Chicago authorities and expected they would take the necessary steps.

The escape of Worthington from the Glendale sanatorium was revealed exclusively by The Times several days ago. The next day it was learned that Burns agency detectives, working for a private client, had been informed of the escape for several days and had traced Worthington through several places in Los Angeles and finally to San Diego. Department of Justice agents and Burns detectives left for San Diego Wednesday in the hope of catching up with the convicted swindler before he crossed the border, but were too late.

Dispatches from Chicago yesterday announced that after Federal Judge Cliffe had rescinded Worthington's stay of execution granted last Friday, Attorney-General Elbert H. Harmon announced that in case Worthington had not been located by Monday he would demand that his $5000 bond be forfeited.

Whether the San Dieguito Water Company, which supplies the Santa Fe Rancho in San Diego country with water, is a public utility and should be compelled to serve all consumers, was debated before the state Railroads Commission here yesterday. The Milton A. Smith Realty Company has brought a complaint against the water company in behalf of 500 acres adjoining the ranch, although the concrete conduits of the water company traverse this acreage, service has been refused.

In defending its action, the water company asserted, however, that it is a mutual company and does not come under the jurisdiction of the commission. On the other hand the reality concerns attempted to establish that by its operations in serving customers the San Dieguito Water Company is, in fact, a public utility and should be ordered by the commission to dispose of available water at a legal rate.

FORMER BANK OFFICER IS FREED UNDER BOND

Frank D. Patty, formerly vice-president of the Pasadena National Bank, who has been in jail since the 4th inst., for asserted misappropriation of $54,900 of the bank's funds, yesterday was released on $1000 bond in United States Commissioner's court. The bond was signed by W. H. Allen, Ellington, organizer of the Sun drug stores, and by P. C. Heppe L. Toy, man and wife. Patty waived examination Thursday.

SWIM RECORD BY YOUNG BUCK

Long distance swimming records on Green Bay were shattered one day when a yearling buck deer swam from Chamberlain's Island to the Menominee Islands, a distance of ten miles, says Menominee (Wis.) dispatch in The Milwaukee Journal. The deer arrived in an exhausted condition and barely managed to stagger up on the beach where it stopped.

The youngster, with his horns just beginning to sprout, is becoming acquainted with a herd of deer in Hemes City Park, where it was placed by game wardens.

JOHNSON IS INDICTED IN OIL INQUIRY

Federal Grand Jury Acts Against Man Accused in $10,000,000 Sales

An indictment charging use of the mails to defraud was returned by the Federal grand jury yesterday against Gilbert S. Johnson, former Fort Worth, Tex., oil promoter, who is said to have obtained $10,000,000 from investors in between thirty-sixty-four oil companies in Texas and California. A bench warrant for Johnson's arrest was issued and bail was set at $10,000.

Evidence against Johnson was presented to the grand jury by John E. Pratt, special agent to the United States Attorney-General. Chief among the companies whose activities were investigated by the jury were the Fortune Oil Company of Texas.

More than 1200 Southern Californians bought stock in the various oil companies promoted by Johnson, according to Mr. Pratt. According to evidence laid to the grand jury, Johnson organized new companies as fast as the old ones collapsed. His activities, in the "boom days" in Texas were said to have stamped him as one of the leading promoters in the business.

A significant development in the investigation of the activities of the Invader and Overwood oil companies of Texas was made yesterday with the receipt of telegraphic instructions from Atty.-Gen. Garrison ordering that if any indictment was returned against the companies he promoted, they should be dropped. Although the officers of the companies have been under investigation for more than a month, this is the first direct word that the Attorney-General's department is actively interested in the case.

The grand jury also indicted the following on a charge of violating the passport law: Paola Cilliso, Evangelista Paladino, Giuseppe Paladino, Giuseppe Stellino and Rocco Parrino. Bail for each was set at $1000.

Hirsch Genns was indicted on a charge of violating the National Prohibition Act and bail was set at $2500.

When Mrs. L. N. Ballard returned to her apartment at 1255 Wilshire Boulevard yesterday, after enjoying a golf game, she discovered that her apartment had been ransacked. A mink coat valued $5000 was missing. Detectives were reported as missing to Detective Lieutenants Edwards and Jacks.

PROTESTS ON PAVING REJECTED

Assessments Map is Given Council's Approval for West Adams Work

All protests against the paving of West Adams street from Montclair to the city limits at Culver City and the laying of a storm drain in Adams street for the permanent removal of storm waters were denied by the City Council yesterday, which approved the assessment district map which will pay for the improvement. The next step will be the adoption of the final ordinance, and then the awarding of the contract by the Board of Public Works.

The announcement was made yesterday that any inequities in the assessments will be adjusted at hearings after the work is completed and the assessments levied. All lots in the assessment district, which is roughly bounded by Montclair, the Baldwin Hills, Culver City limits and Washington street, will pay proportionate share of the paving costs, only the front lots on West Adams and a few lots from Adams will pay for the paving.

The improvement is sponsored by the West Adams Improvement Association, that West Adams street can be used as a major traffic artery from the city to the ocean, joining with Washington street at Culver City. The streets will drain into the western basin and flooding of streets in the winter rainy season will be abated, the engineers say, as the storm water will be carried through the drain into Ballona Creek.

Girl, Released in Gem Theft, Held on Drug Charge

It's a case of in again and out again for pretty Dorothy Madisen, 22-year-old motion-picture extra. On the 17th inst. she was arrested by Hollywood detectives on suspicion of being involved in a theft of diamonds from several Los Angeles jewelers. She maintained her innocence and the following day was released.

Officer Williams of the narcotics unit of the Glendale police at the time she took control of the Turkish city of Constantinople. To celebrate their victory and pay tribute to Constantinople, they imitated a coin he is said to have made of gold, to communicate his advent into Christianity in the year 337 A.D. On one side of the metallic piece is a bust of Constantine and on the other a like bust of the mother of the emperor.

The coin lost by Doovas is made of silver and has a small hole near the upper margin. Its return would be most gratefully appreciated.

According to Doovas the metal piece, about the size of a quarter, was given to him by the Greek at the time he took control of the Turkish city of Constantinople.

Former residents of Keokuk, Iowa, will gather at Sycamore Grove Park on July 4 for their annual all-day picnic and reunion.

CHURCH UNION HOPE GROWS

Canadian Merger Strengthens Move Here; Time Held Ripe for Incorporation of Creeds

Hope for the organic union of Protestant evangelical churches of the United States has been strengthened in the ranks of its advocates because of the church-union movement in Canada. While there has been little concerted effort toward effecting such a union, thousands of progressive churchmen, both among the clergy and laity, are predicting the founding and success of an organization which would include practically all denominations. Conviction of the advisability of this movement is based upon the fact that the various churches today are not merely tolerant toward one another but are working together in spiritual harmony for the uplift of humanity.

"There is no good reason why the various churches should not, for the purpose of more effective service, become one in body as they are one in spirit," said Rev. Paul Elliott, associate pastor of the First Presbyterian Church.

The subject of church union will be discussed at a meeting of the Ministerial Association of Los Angeles, to be conducted at 8 a.m. next Monday at the Y.M.C.A., to be attended by ministers of many denominations. This will be the last meeting of the association before vacation.

"The subject of church union will be discussed at a meeting of the Ministerial Association of Los Angeles, to be conducted at 8 a.m. next Monday at the Y.M.C.A., to be attended by ministers of many denominations. This will be the last meeting of the association before vacation.

"WHAT WOULD HAPPEN?"

"If our legislators voted as they do in what would happen to a safety valve? What do you think of the publicity given the Young murder? What do you think of Gaillard's new play, 'End of the World'?" With the United Church of Canada succeeded?

"Are women becoming more beautiful? Why are there so many weddings in June? Should the slaves of the world be freed to an extent?" These are among the questions to be answered by Dr. William McCormack in his sermon at St. Paul's Cathedral tomorrow evening.

"The topic for morning is 'The Immoral Imperative of Jesus.'

"DR. WALKER RETURNS"

Tomorrow will be a day of rejoicing at the First Presbyterian Church, where the return of Dr. and Mrs. Hugh Walker from their trip around the world. At the morning hour Dr. Walker will preach on "The Deep Impression of a World Pilgrimage," the sermon topic for the evening is "An Adventure in Understanding," a sermon dealing with the growth of the spirit of democracy throughout the world.

"KISS IN THE DARK"

"Will Presbyterians, Congregationalists and Methodists soon unite? Will Baptists ever follow Dr. Fosdick? Will church unions ever be realized? If Christians follow Christ, why so many denominations?" These questions will be discussed by Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher in his sermon at the Temple Baptist Church tomorrow evening. Rev. Russell Brougher will give an address, Mr. Webb being "A Kiss in the Dark."

At the morning hour Rev. Gilbert Thayer, noted teacher of hygiene, and among the speakers will be Dr. George F. Pearce, president of the University of Life, and Dr. Clyde S. Shepard, a teacher of applied psychology. The public is invited.

"HE IS 'DR.' NOW"

The degree of doctor of divinity was conferred on Rev. Gordon Palmer by Dr. Frank Dyer, his son, who recently received a fellowship at the University of Redlands, of which Dr. Palmer is a graduate. Dr. Palmer, who is pastor of the South Park Baptist Church, will preach at a meeting to be conducted at the Trinity Methodist Church at 10:45 a.m. on the 25th inst. In charge of the meeting will be Gilbert Thayer, noted teacher of hygiene, and among the speakers will be Dr. George F. Pearce, president of the University of Life, and Dr. Clyde S. Shepard, a teacher of applied psychology. The public is invited.

"DIVINE LAW OF CURE"

"While divine healing is an established fact, the matter of the subject is often obscured by mystery, fanaticism and charlatanism," declares Mrs. Lella S. Castberg, pastor of the Church of Divine Power, who will speak at a meeting of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, tomorrow morning at the Moroso Theater. Sunday school will be conducted at 9:45 a.m. at the church headquarters, 833 South Spring street. Dr. Palmer will be the speaker.

"TRUTH OF TRUTHS"

The pulpit of the Westlake Presbyterian Church, of which Dr. G. A. Briggle is pastor, will be supplied tomorrow by Rev. W. W. Palmer, who will speak on "The Truth of Christ." Dr. Palmer is a graduate of the University of the Holy Bible, God's Word, and the Record of Creation in Nature." Dr. Dyer will point a way out of the evolution mudsle. In his morning sermon Dr. Dyer will speak on the question recently asked him, "Why do you build a Catholic church?" He will be assisted at the morning service by Brahmed Dyer, his son, who recently received a fellowship at the University of Southern California, from which he was graduated. At the evening service the new organ will be used for the first time, and a program will be rendered by the chancel choir.

"FIRST BAPTIST"

"The Grace of God and Your Freedom" is the subject of a sermon to be preached by Dr. J. A. Francis tomorrow morning at the First Baptist Church. In the evening Dr. Bruce Baker will speak on "Starting a Ministry." Dr. C. O. Johnson of Tacoma, Wash., has been obtained as pulpit supply for the First Baptist Church for five Sundays, beginning July 26. At a meeting conducted last Sunday members of the choir voted for a collection only during the month of August.

"VICTORY IN SURRENDER"

The second of a series of services on the subject of Final Sayings of Jesus will be preached by Dr. J. A. Eby tomorrow morning at the Wilshire Presbyterian Church. The topic for tomorrow is "Victory Through Surrender." The feature of the evening program will be the motion picture, "Abraham Lincoln."

"CHURCH NOTES"

"What Is Modernism?" is a question to be discussed in a sermon to be preached by Dr. Herbert Booth Smith in his sermon at the Immanuel Presbyterian Church tomorrow morning. The subject of the forthcoming debate in Tennessee by Bryan and Darrow on the subject of evolution.

Dr. Smith in the evening discourse will be "Can Modernism be saved?"

On the morning of the same day the sermon subject will be "Shut Your Ash Pan—A Warning to Christians Against the Sin of Gossip."

"SLEEPING WATCHMEN"

"Does Dr. Thomas Young have a murder complex? Should he be hanger, complex or no complex? Why are we so long in discovering such murders? What is the remedy and when will we apply it?" These will be the topics of Rev. Bob Shuler in his sermon on "Why Do Husbands and Wives Murder Each Other?" to be preached at the Trinity Methodist Church tomorrow evening. The subject for morning is "The Sleeping Watchmen."

LIP SERVICE
Germans who approve of President Hindenburg are growing mustaches after his pattern. The new rule in Germany will be that of the hairy lip.

WILDER
Maybe one reason the beaches are so thronged every Sunday is that they are so much safer than the roads. Wild waves are pretty tame beside wild motorists.

THE BANANA HABIT
An elephant in a British show will eat nothing but bananas. However, when there's a shortage the animal doesn't try to sing about it. He may just put up his trunk for board.

HER OWN MEDICINE
The heiress to the Castorion millions is about to be married. After all children have done for her she is one bride who ought to look forward to doing something for children.

MUST BE NAUGHTY
A great piano builder says that if people only understood what jazz said they would hide their heads and run from the room. We always had the idea that there was something dubious about it.

HEROIC TREATMENT
A New York doctor declares that music is a great aid in the treatment of diseases. Why, of course. Recent trials have shown us that many germs are cultured and a lot of our modern music must be a deadly shock to all such.

STREET TREES
Cleveland has just set out 10,000 street trees and will keep green in spite of advancing years. The street-tree idea is being revived in numbers of cities. No highway that aims at being beautiful can afford to dispense with trees.

AT PARENT MANY YEARS
Now they tell of a Nantucket girl who has just found a ring which was lost amid the sands of a beach by her mother twenty-one years ago. Here is a damsel that surely follows her mother's footsteps—and in the sands of time, at that.

THREATENS A MIRACLE
T'premier Caillaux threatens to keep the French Deputies sitting all summer. After the way they've been strutting and gesticulating and jumping about such a rest ought to do them good, but still the world will be amazed if he can so tranquillize them.

MONARCH OF MOUNTAINS
Missionaries in Western China aver that there are a dozen peaks in the Himalayas higher than Mt. Everest. Hitherto Everest has always been hailed as the loftiest of earth's mountains. Those who yearn to scale the highest mountain in the world had better first make sure of their peaks.

SOME APPLESAUCE
Apples form the largest fruit crop of the nation, despite the magnitude of the grape and citrus industries in California. It takes more than 115,000 freight cars to handle the country's apples and the crop is worth more than $200,000,000. Although California is not a very heavy producer of apples, we are in position to magnanimously offer three cheers for this superb pie-essential.

GOING A-GYPSYING
Now they are blaming Henry Ford for starting the whole world to gypsying. There are thousands who buy cheap cars before they purchase homes. Having the car, they are inclined to make it the home and they do not care much where it is. They can have the novelty of a new location every day for the mere price of a gallon of gas. Therefore, they keep moving and the first thing they know they develop the Romany fever and jump about such a rest ought to do them good, but still the world will be amazed if he can so tranquillize them.

BIG WALNUT YIELD
Subnormal rainfall last season resulted in a lighter walnut crop than for any year since 1912, and yet the harvest was greater. This is the report made by the California Walnut Growers' Association. The increased harvest was in dollars. More than $8,25,000 worth of nuts was marketed during the business year of 1924, an increase of $300,000 over the total for the previous year. The association marketed $1.7 per cent of the State's entire output, which was nearly 43,000,000 pounds, valued at $10,750,000.

The walnut growers of California are to be congratulated upon having attained so good a result, despite the drought. It is due to their efforts to improve the quality of their product that California has become the world center for walnuts and that their production has become one of the State's important horticultural industries.

MEETING THE TURK
"Golden Rule" Nash of Cincinnati has demonstrated the broad spirit of his Christianity by guaranteeing a budget of $50,000 annually for five years for the support of the Turkish-American Club at Smyrna. The work will be in the hands of a board of three Turks and three Americans and along the same lines as the Y.M.C.A., but as the Turkish government placed a ban upon any organization with the word "Christianity" in its title, the new movement was launched to overcome the objection at the suggestion of Asa Jennings, well known by his work as a Y.M.C.A. secretary in that country. If all Christian organizations were less sticklers for the name and more for the uplift of humanity greater things would be accomplished in the name of Christianity. The Turks does not think of the words "Christian nation" as we do, but he remembers his dealings with Greeks, Serbs and Bulgarians, known as Christian nations.

THE MENACE TO BRITAIN
Trade unionism has developed into the greatest single menace to national and individual security in Great Britain. This is due in a large part to the fact that trade unions persist in mixing industry with politics. Originally organized for the purpose of securing better wages and industrial conditions for the members, these unions have become the most fruitful field for political agitation.

Four unions, the miners, railway workers, engineers and shipbuilders, and the transport and general workers, have a combined membership of more than 3,500,000. Red organizers are now working, under orders from Moscow, to weld these unions into a militant alliance whose purpose it shall be "to go forward, under the leadership of the Third Internationale, to seize the reins of power and so overthrow that greatest citadel of imperialism, Great Britain."

These are the exact words in which "Conrad" Polit, chairman of the recent Glasgow Communist conference, outlined the policy by which the Communists in Great Britain hope eventually to inaugurate a revolt against the government similar to that by which the Reds under Lenin and Trotsky overthrew the representative republican form of government constituted by the Russian Duma, when the Czar was deposed, and established on its ruins the bloody dictatorship of the proletariat.

The medium through which this revolt is to be brought about is the organizations of trade unions, which are to be combined as a revolutionary alliance. The object is purely political, and if it were to be successful the star of empire of Great Britain would sink in a sea of blood of the very workers who would bring about such a catastrophe.

As sowers of internal discord the Communists are without a peer. The first chapter of their program is to inaugurate a general strike, when all the wheels of industry would cease to revolve. If this were to take place starvation or emigration would be inevitable. The soil of the British Isles will not produce more than half enough foodstuffs for the present population. England must either export goods or export at least half its present population.

When industry ceases the workers go hungry. For a few weeks they might live on plunder, but the necessary food is not in the country. The day the wheels of industry cease motion in Great Britain, that day the people begin to starve. That is an economic fact that cannot be modified nor annulled by human decrees.

It would not be possible to repeat the Russian experience; for it must be remembered that the soil of Russia will produce, under intensive cultivation, enough food to support ten times its present population.

In the opinion of The Times, the proposed Red revolt will not succeed. There is too much common sense in the English and Scotch heads, and the facts are too obvious. If public opinion were inclined in that direction the late Labor government would not have been overthrown in the national elections. But the present agitation is not without evil effect. It is creating a discontented working class in the great British industries. This means less production and consequent economic and industrial depression.

Outside the labor unions the Communist movement has made no headway in Great Britain. The menace lies in these unions alone; and the example is one that should give thought to other peoples.

The press and the British public are not abiding their eyes to the Communist menace. Ringing appeals to British patriotism and British reason appear in the press. The following extract from an editorial in the Yorkshire Post voices perhaps the sentiment of the majority in Great Britain:

We do not for one moment believe that an accommodation of nations can do what Mr. Cook can suppose possible to the new combination. The people of England, the rank and file of those unions, will not regard their loyalty to trade unionism as a loyalty to Moscow. They will not reduce themselves to beggary and their families to misery in order that Comrade Cook and his friends may wade through blood to power in Britain as Lenin and Trotsky waded to power in Russia.

There are some causes for which Britons will fight, but they fight for them in the name of Britain. A nation which fought from 1914 to 1918 to preserve freedom against foreign aggression will not in 1922 allow foreign aggression to murder freedom. A nation which refused to become helots to Germany will not become dupes to Russia. In this way the Glasgow conference has been of value. It has shown beyond question what is the aim of the Communists, and it has warned the workers of the real aim behind Mr. Cook's new plan of union alliance. Asked to choose between Britain with Democracy or Russia and Red ruin the Englishman will not hesitate. He will choose his native freedom and reject an alien tyranny.

THE TATTERED KNIGHT
Mark Twain in his "Tramp Abroad" tells of a prodigious dragon in Germany in the Middle Ages. It was as long as a railway train and breathed pestilence and contagion. It ate men and cattle indiscriminately and was quite unpopular.

The Emperor promised to grant any single wish any destroyer of the monster might make. He had a surplusage of daughters and dragon-slayers usually demanded.

The most illustrious knight came from all over the empire—and were promptly eaten up. Panic spread everywhere.

At last an obscure knight in tatters came out of the far country to do battle with the beast. The Emperor pitted him and the people jeered him.

He was not ruffed, but calmly asked whether any of the heroes who had been beaten in the fight were men of science. He declined a proffered spear and spared only what seemed a cylindrical knap-sack slung over his shoulder.

The dragon belched forth vast volumes of sulphurous smoke. The ragged knight stole warily upon his adversary and when in a good position released something from his knapsack. It was a fire extinguisher.

He shot the hose into the center of the dragon's cavernous fire-flaming jaws—and out went the flames—and with the flames his life! Fire was his breath!

Brother Bryan is reputed to have said with considerable complacency that he is glad he is for once on the side of the majority.

Can he flatter himself that he is with the majority even now? There may be room for discussion over what constitutes a majority. Do two States make a majority?

It may be maintained that Bryan counts for much and whatever side he espouses will have added weight; but are two with Bryan a majority?

Will not evolution, right or wrong, be more popular than ever? Is Bryan not about the best press agent it ever had? If ever the boys and girls discover there is something the Legislature is fearful for them to know, will not every youth be converted until he finds it?

Is not the persecution of either religious or scientific dogma about the best way in the world to give it virility?

Will not the young teacher of Tennessee, who is the object of the attack, be likely given a niche in the Hall of Fame? Keep your eye on the tattered knight!

Just About It By James J. Montague

ADVICE TO THE LOVELORN

Mr. Carpenter counsels young women not to marry prize fighters.

"Though getting his nose flattened out on his face is a pain of a prize fighter's life. Whenever this commences, however, it is dreadfully rough on his wife. While his beloved opponent goes on, she anxiously waits his homecoming at night. Her heart murmurs sadly 'Ah! Me!' Perhaps he'll come home at the end of a fight. With gaps where his teeth ought to be!"

Though pugs may resemble the gods of old Greece, it is wiser to marry a person of peace.

It is thrilling to sit by the side of the ring. When one's husband is fighting a bout, And watch him with a long left hand swing. While his beloved opponent goes on, But just when expecting one's hero to win What a hideous dash to one's hopes.

When the other man lands a good jolt on the chin. And friend husband is knocked through the ropes. Though prize fighters handsome and masterful are, To wed to some highbrow is shrewder by far.

True love will be proof to pull many a shock. If it really is deep and sincere. But it's certain to suffer a pretty hard knock. When it looks at a shredded-up ear.

And after a fighter for years has won Siamese, and the like, and broken his looks. He may as a hero be perfectly good.

But he won't be a wonder for looks.

The knights of the ring are alluring, perhaps.

But in wedlock, be wise, and pick peacefuler chaps!

Your skin, dear madam, will get better and better in every way, if you'll only use Mission Bell Soap faithfully every day. This wonderful soap fits your skin like the ingredients, the kind which the Los Angeles Soap Company's chemists discovered to be just right for Los Angeles' water. Have your druggist or grocer send you a carton of six bars of Mission Bell Soap; give it a trial, and soon you'll be convinced of its superiority! It's delicately perfumed and so reasonably priced, too.

Summer time is ant time, isn't it? Many a distressed housewife has almost given up in despair trying to rid the house of ants, miserable little things that they are. Relief, absolute relief, is at hand through the use of the Prog Ant Con., 1542 N. Washington St. install their Calpro System. Telephone BEacon 1260 for Calpro, and it's vale, a bar the ant forever and ever from your premises.

Well, isn't this wonderful? Others are coming in with the regularity of clockwork for the installation of Maytag Washing Machines. They are taking the town by storm, and no wonder. The Maytag Wash-Matic Machine is the height of its rivals; it passes them all in demands for merit and efficiency. My, why not? The tub is of cast aluminum, therefore, does not warp, rot, swell, split or corrode. It never, possibly, needs washing in its corners, nor washes faster; that is, does more washing in a given time than any other washer does. Then it takes up less floor space than many other machines, saving valuable time and labor. But, honest, you should convince yourself about all the Maytag's fine qualities. You can see it work at the shop, or have a free demonstration in your home, so why hesitate a day or a moment longer? Call the shop nearest to you, and make your quest to the Maytag Washing Machine's city representatives, Schlesinger, 745 South Figueroa St.; or telephone, TRinity 4801 and investigate to your own satisfaction. You may purchase a Maytag on easy terms, you know.

The sale for sound sense in eating would indicate Lily Brand Brick Ice Cream as the most logical choice. It is a real pick-up, and satisfies these warm June days. Yes, indeed! Lily Brand Brick is a sweet as well as a nourishing, strengthening food. All the king's cooks couldn't make you a better dessert. Even the pickiest new mothers will find it delicious. So tantalizingly good it's hard to decide which to take. Ask your nearest dealer for Lily Brand Brick, made by the L.A. Creamery Company and the whole family will be happy to say.

Soil a most efficient housekeeper—"Why, I would no more think of washing clothes, dishes or paintbrushes without a few spoonfuls of Boriken. Generally, I use Ammonia in the water than I would—well, try Boriken! It's all I need there.

Maybe it's not often you want your furniture reupholstered, but when, when do you, don't you? Assuredly, then, be sure to call those well-equipped and expert furniture repairmen. It makes a difference in the room and how easily it is to keep clean. It's on sale at John Lucas & Co.'s, 959 S. Main street. You are going to be more than pleased at its unique and lasting qualities. If you dream of a beautiful and comfortable home, spell Sanitas.

To prevent fine towels being cut by razors blades dried on them, hang in the bathroom by a small towel expressly for blades. This expedient will lengthen the life of your handsome linen towels.

Onion sauce flavored with a little cherry is nice with hot sliced ham.

A little hint which may make a big difference.—A piece of oilcloth pasted on the bottom of the tin bread box will prevent it from rusting.

Set soft, fruit-flavored gelatin in a bowl of cracked ice, beat until foamy, and serve with cold stirred custard.

Cupful of grated chocolate, melt and add two tablespoonsfuls of granulated sugar and one tablespoonful of butter. Sift one cupful of sugar and two teaspoonsful of powdered sugar, mix with a smooth hat, add half a cupful of cream and one scant cupful of milk; beat well, add the chocolate mixture and beat in one teaspoonful of vanilla; pour into a buttered and floured square cake tin and bake in a moderate oven for 30 min. Cool, cover with fudge cake frosting and cut in squares for serving.

FUDGE CAKE FROSTING

Place in a sauceman two squares of grated chocolate, one and three-quarters cupfuls of sugar, three-quarters of a cupful of milk, and one tablespoonful of butter; cook until thick.

Little is dropped in cold water; remove from the fire, add one teaspoonful of vanilla and beat until cool enough to spread.

Death Fear Disclosed by Find at Gilchrist Home

Inquest Set in Confession of Sappchild's Murder

Girl Makes Attack Charge at Dying Moment

Detectives searching yesterday in the home of Thomas O. Gilchrist, now in jail after having confessed to the murder of his step-daughter, Mrs. Ollie Morris, in an attempt to attack her criminally, found that Gilchrist's wife recently fled to Texas in fear that Gilchrist would kill her and burn down their home.

Mrs. Gilchrist filed suit in Detroit for divorce on grounds of mental cruelty and found it necessary to procure a court order restraining Gilchrist from disturbing

her. Her case was set for August 10, when she will be tried in the

YOUNG MENACED EX-WIFE

Friend Declares Divorcee's Life Threatened by Confessed Murderer Until She Fled

Fear that her own life was in jeopardy shortly before the discovery of the body of Mrs. Grace Young, caused Dr. Thomas Young's first and divorced wife, Katherine Leonard, to flee recently from Southern California, it became known yesterday from close friends of the Leonard family.

When Young and his first wife separated, while they were residing in Pennsylvania, Mrs. Young No. 1 fled to California after he had threatened to kill her. Dr. Young, accused of killing Mrs. Morris and followed her to this city. Since that time, it became known yesterday, he is said to have molested her on several occasions.

Young married Katherine Leonard for her money, as he married the widow of Patrick Grayson, a friend of the first wife's parents who had died.

When Young began his fight for freedom yesterday morning when he pleaded not guilty to the murder charge in Superior Court, he was not charged with having killed his wife, but he was charged with having threatened to kill her.

Dr. Young began his fight for freedom yesterday morning when he pleaded not guilty to the murder charge in Superior Court. He was not charged with having killed his wife, but he was charged with having threatened to kill her.

Young's attorneys to quash the indictment returned against him by the county grand jury. The murderer was held on bail on the accusation that he had murdered his wife.

Young's wife, Katherine Leonard, was released on $1,000 bail.
